

Modular homes in St. Michaels

The third modular home arrived in St. Michaels! This is the seventh and final Habitat home to be added to the Brooks Lane neighborhood.

We still have lots of work to do on these modular homes -- from the construction of porches to the siding on each home -- and we're excited to continue building in the Brooks Lane neighborhood together!

Building a Beloved Community

We have a vision of a world where we share one humanity, and that's a world that we believe in and fight for every day.

We must create what Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. called “the Beloved Community” — a community that includes diversity and allows for tension undergirded by love and leading to transformation. To do this, we must truly love our neighbors as we love ourselves.

Ashley Moves In

We're excited to share that our homebuyer Ashley moved into her Habitat home in Easton on Saturday, February 27th!

Ashley works full time at Anne Arundel Medical Center. She and her two children are excited to have a safe place to call home. “Everything I did, I did it for them...I'm leaving a foundation for my kids at the end of the day,” Ashley shared.

Congratulations to Ashley for all her hard work! Thank you to the volunteers and donors who made this possible!

Cost of Home

Through the Cost of Home campaign, Habitat Choptank has joined organizations across the U.S. to help tackle the exacerbated housing stability and affordability challenges in our communities. Over 18 million U.S. households were paying half or more of their income on housing before the COVID-19 pandemic. Home affordability challenges have only been further exacerbated by COVID-19.

Habitat Choptank will reach out to members of Congress to urge them to invest in housing affordability as part of any future economic recovery and infrastructure measure by prioritizing foreclosure prevention, neighborhood revitalization and housing production for low-income homeowners. These investments are critical for preventing major losses in homeownership and in wealth for communities of color, as well as expanding access to new affordable homes for all.

You can join us and hundreds of housing advocates in calling on Congress to invest in housing affordability and neighborhood revitalization. The COVID-19 pandemic has only exacerbated existing needs, so the time to act is now.
